

Mr. Todd Brown is a Sr. Program Manager and Manufacturing Growth Specialist with the FASTLANE-MEP program at The University of Dayton Research Institute (UDRI).

He has over 20 years of experience in manufacturing with a proven record in multi-site operations including profit and loss (P&L) responsibility, continuous improvement, project management, engineering and team development.

In addition, he has organizational expertise in operations management, technical management, strategy development, safety, quality, product management, and employee relations.

Todd has a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering and MBA with Project Management focus from Wright State University; he also holds 2 patents and a Lean Six Sigma Green Belt certification.